A FEAST BETWEEN LEGENDS AND GREASY POLE...

The city is in fibrillation, despite the thunderstorms. The feast of Santa Cristina has now started, with the opening celebration in the small chapel dedicated to it, the flag-wavers around the city. But why this party? To find out, you have to go back about 150 years, when cholera raged in the city and thanks to the intercession of the saint, the epidemic came to an end. Starting from that year the Virgin of Bolsena became co-patroness of the city and in her honor were organized the first celebrations, which continue in great style still today. The saint, however, asks for total devotion to the gallipolinis, who should avoid going to sea on feast days, during which it is "Steddhra", a belief handed down since 1807 when a boy drowned during the feast days. The gallipolinis interpret what happened as a sign of the protectress. This afternoon is also another typical event of the festival: the "Cuccagna a mare". In this challenge of balance and speed, the competitors compete by throwing themselves on a pole fattened on the sea, trying to take the small tricolor place at the end. (Continues inside)

TODAY, IN HISTORY

If it had not been for the American explorer Hiram Bingham, today we could not admire the fascinating site of Machu Picchu, discovered by Bingham 107 years ago, July 24, 1911, thanks to the last families who lived there.

ICE-COVERED
TAFURI PASSITO IS A DISCOVERY!

The serving temperature of a wine is often enclosed in preconceived patterns that want the colder whites and the reds at room temperature. The passito Tafuri Igt Salento is a blend of Negroamaro and Primitivo grapes that will surprise you. A purplish aubergine color, concentrated and bright. Scents of red fruits, blackberries, cherries, and blackberries, for a great olfactory complexity and a vigorous palate, of a sumptuous sweetness. On hot summer evenings, taste it frozen to accompany small sins of the throat.

RECIPE OF TODAY

Cupeta (crunchy almonds)

(da velocissimo.it)

Ingredients: 500gr almonds, 500gr sugar, 1 lemon

Peel the almonds by putting them in boiling water, dry them and put them in the oven at moderate heat to toast; once ready, reduce them to more or less small pieces. At this point, in a saucepan, melt the sugar over the heat, turning it carefully with a wooden spoon and taking care not to burn it. When the sugar is well melted, add the chopped almonds, and stir vigorously for a few seconds over the heat. Then spread the mixture on a marble greased with oil, helping, to flatten it out, with the beating or better (if liked) with a whole lemon to aromatize the crisp and you cut it into pieces in the desired shape.

...WITH A LITTLE-BIG CHURCH

An exciting race, with choirs from the stadium and an audience that, between boats, porcherecci and pier, turns the port into an amphitheater. On the threshold of the bridge and with the sea behind, there is the small church of Santa Cristina, a testimony of the simple but enduring bond with the saint of Bolsena. A small temple, already present in 1600, without particular external decorations, but full of value. Until 1865 it had been converted to profane use, but after the miracle of those years it returned to its initial religious use. Located on the pier, which was not there before, has been the victim of many years of the bad weather of the sea. Yet it has always resisted. Recently, however, the condition of the building had deteriorated somewhat and a careful restoration has made it safe. A small-great church therefore, to visit for its particularity, with the small altar inside and the statue of the saint, close to the sea and to those who live with this all year round.
