SUSTAINABLE TOURISM?

If in our campsite the environment is the master, ensuring holidays in tranquility and fresh air, not all places can offer these standards. It is clear that the private is not the public, but many of the places stormed by tourists are often victims of them, who often show a lack of sensitivity and respect for the environment and monuments. Venice, for example, a city as beautiful as it is delicate, is in this situation, with its 30 million tourists every year. Many solutions have been devised, such as the closed number. Not only Italy is a victim of this neglect. In China the Great Wall, the big structure that runs along the northern border of the country and it extends for about 6,000 km, unfortunately has numerous graffiti and stretches in which it is in a state of neglect, thus causing, with natural causes, the progressive destruction of the monument. Travelling is important, visiting and learning about new places can improve the lives of many of us, as well as relaxing when we are stressed. We must always try to respect the places where we go, imagining that we are in our second home, to be respected as if it were the first.

TODAY, IN HISTORY

Today's event takes us back almost 2000 years, 1954 to be precise. On 18 July 64 A.D. a vast fire broke out in Rome, departing from the area of the Circus Maximus. It is suspected of Nero, emperor accused of ordering the stake.

Patitari,
The sweet ionian taste

Salento IGT, takes its name from the noble and ancient descendants of Patitari. Family with illustrious men of letters and weapons among its family members. Primitivo in purity aged in oak barrels. Intense ruby red, warm and aromatic scent, full flavor. It encloses the whole Mediterranean area; it is cultivated in the homonymous Patitari estate inside the Camping La Masseria. A lovely red but with a character that suffers from the beneficial influence of the Ionian Sea.

THE CATHEDRAL OF GALLIPOLI #3

On entering the cathedral, the colourful walls, rich in paintings, strike the eye of the observer. Each altar in both aisles has a canvas, indicating its title. Throughout the church has an area of 700 square meters of canvas, painted by local and Neapolitan artists. Among the most important venues are Gian Domenico Catalano and Giovanni Andrea Coppola, one of the most important painters in Puglia. He painted the St. Francis of Paola and the visit to the Three Kings, second and third altar of the nave on the left, and that of St. Agatha of the transept. Coppola, given the importance of this artist for Gallipoli and the vastness of his works, will be discussed later. The other canvases were made by Andrea and Nicola Malinconico. You can safely say that this Basilica is a real picture gallery!
