SICILIA

Baroque art, Roman palaces, cathedrals and Greek theatres. Sicily is a cultural heritage of humanity. Word of Unesco. The historical and cultural importance of the Sicilian region is also testified by the numerous UNESCO awards: the archaeological area of Agrigento with its Valley of the Temples; Arab-Norman Palermo and the cathedral of Cefalù and Monreale; Etna Volcano; the Villa Romana del Casale, the baroque cities of the Val di Noto; the Aeolian Islands; Syracuse and the necropolis of Pantalica. Sicily has been well represented in its complexity by refined intellectuals such as Luigi Pirandello, Giovanni Verga and Andrea Camilleri. Sicily is a history book, a compendium of the greatest civilizations and cultures of all time. A sunny island, with a nature rich in contrasts, with a beautiful coast and a refined and tasty cuisine with flavors and aromas all to try and enjoy.

TAORMINA

The location of the Grand Hotel San Pietro is ideal for visiting the splendor of the Giardini Naxos, Isola Bella and the most famous monument of Taormina, the Greek Theatre. For those who want to take a walk through the center of Taormina, we recommend crossing Corso Umberto I, the main street of Taormina, which leads to the picturesque panoramic terrace overlooking the sea, Piazza IX Aprile. A few km from Taormina you can visit Catania, then admire Piazza del Duomo that welcomes its visitors with the symbol of the city, the elephant, an eighteenth-century work of the architect Giovan Battista Vaccarini. Around this statue revolve curious legends related to Eliodorus, a nobleman of the city lived in the eighth century AD. Always in Catania, it is advisable to walk the main street, Via Etnea, elegant and full of life. Travellers are always fascinated by this avenue - partly reserved for pedestrians only - along which there are historic buildings and wonderful churches, but also shops and clubs of all kinds. Nature lovers will also enjoy visiting the nearby Botanical Garden.

Other attractions to discover are Aci Trezza, Acireale and Acicastello: located in the Riviera dei Ciclopi.

TAORMINA, A LAND FOR THE SOUL

The beating heart of Sicilian tourism, a place rich in marine beauty, historical monuments and postcard views: it is Taormina, a land that has enchanted historians, writers, artists and that every year continues to make travellers fall in love with all the world. A land for the eyes, a land for the soul. Fan in hand in the summer months, the traveller will capture the beauty of the city through Corso Umberto I, with all the main historical monuments. It will refresh the view as soon as you set foot in Piazza IX Aprile, with the romantic balcony overlooking Mount Etna, the bay of Naxos and the ruins of the Greek Theatre, the most famous attraction of Taormina.

Piazza IX Aprile is similar to an elegant open-air lounge. Further on, the traveler will take a dip back in time when his gaze will set on the show of the Greek Theatre, a place rich in history and stage of numerous events - among the most famous "Taormina Arte and Taormina Film Fest" - during the summer period. The Greek Theatre, according to studies by some archaeologists, seems to date back to the third century B.C. although in fact its appearance is not Hellenic, but typically Roman. Its size is remarkable, so as to accommodate as many as 10,000 spectators. Another theatre of Roman origin worth a visit, is the small Odeon, as well as deserve also the Saracen Castle, the Cathedral of San Nicola and Palazzo Corvaia.
